ABSTRACT

CURRENT DESIGN CRITERIAS OF CITY HOTELS

Elif AKÇAKAYA

In this study, we dwell into the driving factors for architects that bring together the design criteria of city hotels. During the investigation of these criteria, we deal with the factors that change these criteria’s over the years in their individual content. According to these factors and criteria’s, a design cycle of a city hotel has been analyzed in depth. The design cycle is based on the matter of functioning and profitable hotel and the decisions of the architect’s necessary time management capabilities to achieve these goals. The effect of these decisions and the role they play on the final city hotel design is at the core of the design criteria of every city hotel. To finalize, this is an in-depth analysis of hotel building designs and spaces as an establishment that are effected and bounded by the demands of the ever-changing needs of customer demands.

Keywords: City hotels, Design criteria, Space analyze, Tourism